DULLES RETIREMENT--Radio Moscow says that Allen Dulles, director of Central Intelligence, was dismissed from his post because "U.S. ruling circles cannot forgive him for the crushing defeat suffered by American imperialism" in the Cuban affair. Moscow says Dulles' fate was decided several months ago when "Washington was looking for a scapegoat." The Tirana radio says the CIA's "policy of espionage, plots, and aggression" apparently will continue, and the fact that Dulles will serve as an adviser to President Kennedy on intelligence affairs indicates "the President continues to appreciate the merits of the chief of U.S. espionage."
